Voice Over:

Summer is a great time to be outside enjoying the fresh air. But remember, summer is also ozone pollution season. And ground level ozone is harmful to everyone, including the young, the elderly, and the active. So learn more about how ozone can affect your health, and the small steps you can take to reduce ozone pollution. Zip on over to OzoneAware dot org.

Voice Over:

You may not notice ozone pollution, but on hot, still summer days, ground level ozone is at its worst. So remember to watch for Ozone Action Alert days. That's when you need to limit your outdoor activity in the heat of the day. And do your part to reduce ozone pollution. It's easy. Breeze on over to OzoneAware dot org.
